THE MORMON PRESIDENT. THE COMING YACHT RACE.

DEATH OF THE MAN WHO SUC-CEEDED BRIGHAM YOUNG.

John Taylor, President of the Mormon Church, Dies at Salt Lake City-A Brief History of His Remarkabe Career-A Noted Journalist Dies at Toledo.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 28 .- John Taylor, president of the Mormon church, is dead. The funeral will be at noon on Friday next at the tabernacle. The body will lie in state in that building, and the public will be permitted to view the remains. John Taylor was born in England in 1805. He joined the Methodist church in England, and emigrated to Canada in 1832. In 1836 Taylor was baptized into the Mormon church, and in 1838 Joseph Smith had a "revelation" naming Taylor as one of the twelve apostles. He did much missionary work for the church for twenty years in the Isle of Man, England, Scotland, Ireland, France and Wales. Ho was also editor of various church papers. He was with Joseph Smith in the Carthage jail and received four shots when the assailants opened fire. He has been president of the church since Young's death in 1877. Apostle John Taylor was so zealous in the faith that it one time, in 1857, he actually established a Mormon paper in New York city, and sought to convect the wicked inhabitants of that place to the ways of Latter Day saints. But although a good many of the citizens of the metropolis, according to Mormon belief, endorse and follow the ways of the saints on the sly, yet they could not be brought to the scratch of advocating their views publicly, and Brother John's paper was done for almost as soon as it was begun,

ENGLISHMEN ENTHUSED OVER THE THISTLE'S DEPARTURE.

All Sporting Interest Centered in the Scotch Craft That is Expected to Take Back America's Cup-Betting on the Result-Other Foreign Affairs. LONDON, July 28.—The departure of the Thistle for New York has increased the enthusiasm over her performance and set everybody to talking about yachts and yachting. A few of the extreme sporting men have had their attention drawn away | the foreign office as to Samoa and to make from the speculative possibilities of the race for the America's cup for the moment by the conclusion of the match between Jeni Smith and Jake Kilrain, but the devotees of yachting cannot be fured from their allegiance to the Scotch craft that is expected to work a complete revolution in American boat building, besides bringing the cup home The discussion of the relative merits of English and American yachts has been much enlivened of late by the appearance of the Volunteer upon the scone and the performances of that boat have given some of the Thistle's admirers an extremely bad turn. In connection with the advent of the Volunteer, and the consequent lessening of the chances that the Thistle will have a walkover, as many enthusiasts predicted a few weeks ago, a story has come to the surface here of the truth of which there is no doubt, and which is too good to be permitted to die of strangulation on this side of the water. It appears that when the Thistle came in an easy winner in the first of the trial races with the crack English yachts so great was the jubilation over her speed, that a pool or syndicate was formed here to wager on her success in the America's cup race. However patriotic the British sportsman may be he does not permit his reverence for home productions to over-balance his judgment concerning the result of contests upon which his money is vontured, but the promoters of this scheme felt, that, the Thistle was a hoat superior to anything allout. Consequently arrangements were made to profit by American enthusiasm and National pride, and it may be safely sail that the acquisition of no money would be so limited with glee as a round stake captured from the Americans after so many years of disappointment to British yachtsmen. Not that the latter have over admitted any superiority in American boats. On the contrary, they have always decried them as unsafe, inconvenient crafts, merely racing unachines scrowed up to a temporary pitch of speed by some Yankee trick or device. and whenever an American cat-boat is up set through the incompetency or carelessues of her han fler, the accident is diluted appear by English journals as proving the unseaworthiness of American ynchts. But the British coalition was taken aback by the apprarance of the Volunteer as a contestant, and the entruce of this factor into the quota of things to be considered also ludierously altered the boastful tone of the anutical prordicts. Many small wagers have thus early been made that the Thistle will bring back the much covetal cup, but the subscribers to the large fund accumulated to deplete the pockets of American sportsmen have taken alarm at the reports of the Volunteer's to discuss the matter in its new bearings. It would be enrious, but not at all surprising in the circumstances, if the find should be returned to the subscribers, or the managers

OUR SAMOAN INTERESTS.

Necessity for the Renewal of the Treats and Other Commercial Aegutlations. NEW YORK, July 28 .- A Washington

special to the Post says: It is ascertamed that the object of the visit of Sir John Thurston, governor of the Fiji Islands, is to confer with the state department on some features of affairs in the Samoan Islands, in which civilized countries have a common interest. It is by virtue of his position as special commissioner to Samoa, and not because he is governor of the Fiji Islands, that he has special knowledge with respect to Samoan affairs. He is now on his way to England to confer with a personal report. The one subject in which the three countries-the United States, Great Britain and Germany-have a common interest is the title to the lamis. Large tracts have been sold by the natives to the foreigners, seventy-five thousand acres having been sold in one body to Cormans, at very low prices. In some instances for not more than one dollar an acre. The consideration has often been ammunition and articles of barter, but the title to the lands, owing to the com-munistic system in which families frequently live, are not clear. There has been a disposition to postpone the evil day, and as foreign countries, rivals to each other, are constantly acquiring large possessions in the islands, it is deemed of unportance that there should be some adjustment of the diffi-

So great have been the complications that the natives have been forbidden by the Samoan government to sell their lands, but they have not strictly obeyed this order. The United States, if it is desired to retain the advantages which it now has in Samon, will be obliged soon to renew the treaty with that government; the present treaty, which was the first which Samon over negotinted with any government, will expire on

It is not probable that Sir John Thurston is auxious to a sist our government to secure the negotiations of a new treaty, but Great Britain and Germany will undoubtedly cooperate to improve the basis of the development of commerce by coming to some understanding as to land titles, and it is admiffed by those who have visited the islands that the government of Samoa will do whatever the great governments named will unite in asking if to do.

A CONVENIENT IMPLEMENT FOR USE IN THE APIARY.

Description of the Varions Forms of Blight-Treatment Advised by Barry and Downing-Items About the Recent Dairy Show.

The big dairy and Butter show held recently in the heart of New York city proved a success. It has been estimated that during the five days of the show over 40,000 people visited it. While there was a fair exhibit of dairy implements and products, the main feature of the show was the large number of choice animals selected for exhibition from the best herds of improved breeds in the country. Five hundred eattle were exhibited, representing in dollars, and cents $1,000,000. Nearly one-half of these were Jerseys.

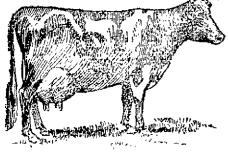

The famous old Jersey Eurotas was the center of attraction among the Jerseys. Her fame came, it will be remembered. with an astonishing butter test that lasted through the year. She gave 778 pounds and one ounce of butter in eleven months and six days and had a fine calf within the year. This performance has only recently been rivaled.

AYRSHURE, DECHESS OF SMITHFIELD,

The Ayrshires, which were present in next largest numbers to the Jerseys, were beaded by the Duchess of Smithfield, the best Ayrshire probably ever produced in this country. This cow has a butter record of over nineteen pounds in a week, and a milk record of over 10,000 pounds in a year. Most of the Ayrshires at the exhibition were dark red and white, the favorite colors.

There was a remarkably fine display of Holstein-Friesians, including Clothilde, the cow which leads the world with a milk record of 26,021 pounds in one year. Clothilde is a large cow, weighing 1,600 pounds, and, like most good milkers, she possesses the wedge form and shows enormous milk veins.

THE IMPORTED GLERNSLY, JOLIE IL The Guernseys, a trifle larger, redder and more even tempered than the Jerseys, made a good show, being represented in the entries by four herds. In this exhibit was included one of the most famous coas at this breed in this country, the imported Julie 2d. An important lesson to be learned of this show is that in the friendly rivalry between exhibitors of the four leading dairy breeds all have shown excellences each strain a continuance of prespency with its own advocates and admirers. In a word, each breed has a sufficient combered merits above the dis-# actively masses and cow to win it a coveter place in the herds of our country.

The "Llight" in Fruit Orchards. "Fire bight" of the pear, the apple, c) hee, e.e., is one of the most formidable discuses to which fruit trees are liable. Scientists differ in their opinions as to whether it is caused by the sun, the atmosphere or an insect. It attacks the tree at a ferred periods of the growing scase, to actume to September, and genearly in the young parts first; the leaves flag, the sap becomes thick and brown, cozing out in globules through the bark, and has something of a very disagreeable eder, and the diseased branch or part turns black, as if it were burned by fire. When the pear tree is attacked it is difficall to save it, the disease spreads so rapidly. In apple and quince it is less fatal, rarely killing more than a portion of the Authorates differ as widely in their treatment of fire blight as scientists do in ascribing the cause of the disease. The only effective and trustworthy treatment, in our opinion, is to cut away the very day the discuse is discovered the blight parts into the sound wood, where there is not the slightest trace of disease; burn up immediately all the diseased portions cut off. As high authority as P. Barry says: The only remedy for fire blight is to cut instantly the blighted parts into the healthy wood and burn them up immediately." Charles Downing said: "When the disease has actually appeared the only remedy seems to be the knife and the saw, most vigorously applied, to eradicate every symptom of diseased and discolored bark or wood. If you would save your tree, cut at once on the first apparent symptom of the disease, and be sure you cut it clean out,"

Twig blight attacks the young shoots of the current season's growth and causes these to wither and become brown or curly in midsummer. The cause is unknown and the injury is not unaterially great. The remedy is cutting away at the first appearance.

Apple blight, like the dreaded fire blight, is a serious disease. It attacks a whole branch or limb, and sometimes half of the top is destroyed before the disease becomes apparent to an ordinary observer. Again, there is no remedy except to cut away the diseased portions and burn

Pear leaf blight is a sort of rust that appears on the leaves during July and August, first in small brown spots. These spread rapidly over the leaves until their growth is stopped. To avoid the evil effects of lear blight the great point is to get a rapid, vigorous growth before mid-

Many readers will doubtless be disappointed because a long list of remedies has not been given for the blight, such as are advised from year to year by many writers. These have been avoided simply because there is but one sure remedy—the heroic one already recommended-cutting away the diseased parts and destroying tural society.

Scraper for Cleaning Bee Hives.

The accompanying illustration represerts a scraper for eleaning hives, frames, bottom boards and sections, which, an appearant elaims in American Bee Journal, is not only exceedingly useful, but readily made by any blacksmith at small expense.

To make a scraper like the one illustrated, take a piece of steel as thick as a heavy butcher knife, three and a half inches long, one and a quarter or one and a half inches wide; punch or drill holes half an inch from each end half an inch from one edge. These holes should be about three-eighths of an inch or a fittle The handle should be about six inches long, direct measure, three and a half fuches at the end solid, and the part next to the blade split and brought around in a bow, entering the holes in the blade and riveted solid. The handle should be set so as to give the blade a little pitch, something like a line. Now sharpen the wide edge and each end. In use, the forefinger can be inserted in the bow of the Barnyard Manure.

The amount of manure which an animal will drop, and which can be saved and used for fertilizing purposes, will, of course, vary with the size of the animal and the amount of food eaten. It will vary in weight from one-half to two-thirds of the weight of food and water consumed and bedding used. If, says The National | Live Stock Journal, all the liquids and solids are saved, a liberal estimate would be 150 to 175 pounds daily for an average sized cow or ox. This, of course, means their weight just as they are voided Practically, however, a large per cent, or the droppings is allowed to go to waste, and quite generally all the urine is lost.

How much the loss is may be inferred by the following table, giving a German estimate of the weight of droppings, liquid and solid, by the several animals named, during the year: Cow Horse Sheep Pig manure, manure, manure, manure, pounds, pounds, pounds, pounds, In excrements, 20,000 in urine . 8,000 3 000 15'000 740 280 1,200 15,000 • 1,140 3,000 28,000

proximately the amount of solid and liquid droppings from a given amount of food, the animals of course having all the water they want to drink, we give another table from the same authority, as follows:

To indicate what may be considered ap-

Pounds Pounds dry fodder, dry manure, A cow produced from . . 7,500
A horse produced from . . 7,500
A slicep produced from . . 560
A pig produced from . . 1,400

Add to these figures about 25 per cent to represent the straw and waste hay used for bedding, and we have a general approximation of the amount of barnyard manure made from each of the animals named.

Fruit Packages.

The refusal of the commission of New York city to return to fruit growers their peach baskets, on the plea that it is too much trouble to look after these, and the refusal of the growers to give away their fruit packages, on the plea that they cannot afford it, is causing no end of dissatisfaction. At a recent convention of fruit growers of Delaware and Maryland a resdution was adopted to dispense with the services of all middlemen and make efforts to get buyers to deal with the growers at their own orchards. It was resolued to organize branches of the fruit exchange at all shipping points in the peninsula, and by every means to discourage the shipment of peaches on consignment; to sell only to commission men who will agree to pay five cents each for all baskets not returned.

Gapes in Chickens.

Gapes in chickens is the result of worms in the throat, and a removal of the worms is a cure for the disease. This is most commonly effected by passing a quill feather dipped in turpentine into the throat and twisting it around until the worms are dislodged. What causes these worms is not clearly understood. Fumigating with carbolic acid is recommended in bad cases by a good authority in poultry ailments, but care must be taken that the chicks are not suffocated by continuing the treatment too long.

The United States supreme court has determined that the real inventor of driven wells has such a property in his invention as gives him, or persons claiming under him, the exclusive right to use it, and that the reissued patent recognizing this state of the case is valid. #### CRIMES ACT PROCLAIMED.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE RESULT OF THE DUBLIN DELIBERATIONS.

The Counties and Towns Where Coercion Will Be Enforced-A Great Gloom Cast Over Ireland-The Calamity Which is Bound to Overtake the Peasants.

LONDON, July 26 .- As a result of the conference on the subject of the coercion bill and its enforcement between the lord lieutenant, Mr. Balfour; Lord Ashbourne, lord chancellor of Ireland, and Gen. Sir Robert H. Buller, under secretary for Ireland, the following counties have been fully proclaimed: Kings, Leitrim, Longford, Sligo, Galway, Mayo, Roscommon, Clare, Kerry, Cork, Limerick, Kilkenny, Queens, Tipperary, Waterford, Wexford, Donegal and Monaghan. The counties partially proclaimed are Armagh, Carlow, Down Cavana, Dublin, Kildare, Fermanagh, Londonderry, South Meath, Tyrone, Westmeath and Wicklow. The following towns have also been proclaimed: Dublin, Cork, Limerick, Waterford, Londonderry, Kilkenny, Drogheda, Belfast, Carrickfergus and Gal

"Poor Ireland," said a prominent Nationalist M. P. to me after hearing of the proclamation of the crimes act. "The blow has descended at last, and for the increased crime, for all the consequences of the illadvised act, for all the violence, for all the lawlessness it may provoke and induce England makes herself responsible."

A great gloom is cast over Ireland, Many of the peasants do not understand the import of the new measure. They know not that the dreaded crimes act has been passed, and in a blind sort of way realize that they are threatened with some new calamity. Evictions they know how to fight against, but they are not prepared for the subtleties of a measure which delivers them for judgment into the hands of those whom they have been taught to regard as enemies. There is a great feeling throughout the Green Isle.

The press, that is the press without Euglish tendencies, denounces the act as unjust, and the language of some prominent journals might also be construed into inciting the people to revolution. That they do not do this fully and freely and give vent to the sentiments of which they would be glad to relieve themselves is due more to the remembrance of England's strength and power and of Ireland's feebleness than to any feelings of loyalty to the island across the channel. The exhibition at Spithead on Saturday is one calculated to make the hottest bead pause and guard his words. And they further remember a threat that was openly expressed in the house of commons not long ago to the effect that England would not hesitate to use any means in her power to "convince" Ireland that coercion was right. Much as revenge might be sought for revenge's sake, the more thoughtful in Ireland see the only remedial relief for their country's woes in the very injustice of the act and its equally unjust and severe work-

They turned to wise and not unfriendly heads in England and to the popular feeling which is undoubtedly strong and which is daily showing itself and being felt at the polls. That the right will conquer in the end, even the peasants will feel the effects of the new act cannot cease to hope. At the many indignation meetings held to condomn the act cooler minds have been preaching prudence. Of course the leaders know that the act is aimed, in a great measure, at the Irish National league, but according to general belief, this argus-eyed and hydra-headed organization cannot easily be crushed and it can take good care of itself,

TWO TRAINS COLLIDE ON A TRESTLE 150 LEET HIGH.

The South Bound Cinciunati Southern Express, Loaded With Passengers, Saved By an Engineer's Presenting...t-Particulars of the Accident.

Sadieville, Ky., July 23.-A railroad horror that makes the blood run cold to contemplate, was averted in a most remarkable manner at the 150 foot high trestle on the Cincinnati Southern railroad, near this place last night. The Cincinnati southbound express left this city on time, and and when near the trestle the engineer, impelled by some indefinable premonition, slacked speed to about twenty miles an hour.

Usually the train, which does a heavy passenger traffic, leaps across the trestle at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour. Going down the grade approaching the bridge that strange presentiment of impending danger still possessed the engineer, and he gripped his lever to further reduce the speed of his train. Lucky that he was prepared and that the train was going comparatively slow! Hardly had the train been moved a notch when his engine rounded the curve, and he beheld midway on the high structure and not one hundred feet distant, a standing freight train. The brakes were instantly applied and the motion reversed, but the momentum carried the train forward, actually sliding on the rails, with such force that it crashed into the caboose of the freight, pushing it forward and upward on a flat car ahead.

The entire trestle shook with the shock of the collision, and for an instant the whole train trembled on the very edge and seemed as if it would go over into the darkness below. Only an instant, however, and the train settled back upon the track and was safe. Nothing left the track. With such force were the brakes applied, and such was the speed of the train that the surface of the engines wheels and the flanges of the drivers were worn off by the friction on the rails, and the locomotive will have to be sent back to the shop.

Scores of the passengers were thrown from their seats and into the aisles by the shock, but none were seriously injured. The passengers were loud in their praises of the engineer's work. Had the train collided when going at the usual rate of speed there would have been a derailment and pitch ng down in a deep gorge that would have cost probably the life of every passenger, and there were nearly two hundred on the train. The train was delayed two hours by the wreck.

COMPLAINTS COMING IN.

WORK OF THE INTERSTATE COM-MERCE COMMISSIONERS.

The Boston Chamber of Commerce Makes Complaint Against Several of the Railsoads Entering Their City-Ten From

One Man-Other Washington News. Washington, July 28.—Complaints were received at interstate commerce headquarters to-day from the Boston chamber of commerce against the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, the New York Central & Hudson river, and the Boston & Albany railroads, alleging that these roads discriminate against Boston, and in favor of New York city in the matter of freight rates on flour, grain and provisions.

The rate charged for the transportation of four, grain and provisions from Chicago to Boston is $90 per carload of 30,000 pounds usual. A large crowd was present and while the rate to New York city is but $75 per carload. On the other hand it is charged that these roads, while making this unjust discrimination against eastern bound freight have charged precisely the same on westbound freight from Boston to Chicago as from New York to Chicago.

It is further complained that when flour, grain and provisions are transported from Chicago to Boston for shipment to foreign ports, then the railroads charge the lesser or New York rate on flour, grain and provisions, thus putting the New York and Boston rates on an equality, although goods Intended for export from Boston are nominally carried twenty miles further than goods intended for local consumption and disposi-

This is characterized as an unjust discrimination in their charges for precisely the same service in favor of Boston export trade, and against Boston local trade. The board also complain that rebates are allowed on goods originally billed to Boston, but subsequently reshipped abroad, or to ports in Maine east of Portland. All this, the petitioners assert, is contrary to the provisions of the interstate law, and more especially in contravention of the first, second and third sections of it, and they ask an investigation and restoration of equality of rates.

Ten complaints were also received at headquarters from George S. Rice, as manufacturer and dealer in refined petroleum oil at Marietta, O., against as many different railroads in the west and southwest, including among others the Louisville & Nashville, the St. Louis & Iron Mountain, East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia, the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific, and the Mobile & Ohio roads. The complaints are somewhat analagous, alleging unjust dis-crimination against the petitioner in the matter of rates on oil, and in favor of the Standard Oil company.

The high and unjust rates charged him, he believes are designed to give the Standard Oil company an almost complete monoply of the traffic in petroleum oils at points reached by these roads. Further than this, he asserts that these discriminations have been made at the dictation of the Standard Oil company. In consequence of this discrimination, his business has been injured, He asks an investigation; also, that the railroads be made to desist from such violations of the law, and make reparation for the injury his business has already sustained.

The commission this morning heard brief arguments in the case of the associated grocers of St. Louis against the Missouri Pacific road in both the complaints of unjust discrimination in freight charges and refusal to sell commercial travelers' tickets at less rates than are charged the general public. This closed the hearing and the commission adjourned until Monday.

The Atlanta's Guns.

Washington, July 23.—In his report to Secretary Whitney of the trials of the guns of the cruiser Atlanta, Capt. Bruce says that not only were the gun carriages disabled, as heretofore reported, but also that "the arrangement of the battery is bad, as some of the guns have to be abandoned by their crews that the other guns may be fired at Commenting on the results of the battery trial, Secretary Whitney said: "The reports are not favorable as to the first trial of the guns, but as yet no matters of great moment have turned up. The trouble to my mind, is this: If two rounds of her battery give this result what would a dozen do! And it is that which we are called upon to ascertain. She is meant as a fighting ship and must be further tested. She should have a cruise at sea sufficiently long to subject her to trial of all weathers. Her battery by actual firing until its working chararteristics are determined and defects, if any, discovered. For these purposes a board will be appointed and the matter settled at the earliest day."

The commission will meet in Salem, Oregon, August 10.

Live Stock Shippers' Conference.

CHICAGO, July 23.-Live stock shippers here are greatly concerned about the result of the conference in New York to-day concorning the minimum weight of live stock carloads. The railroad officials claim that 20,000 pounds is too great, as the small cars can not carry that weight. Several prominent shippers of Chicago have gone east to be present at the conference, on invitation of President Fink, of the east bound pool. Many shippers regard the proposed cut as a serious injury threatened against Chicago's live stock trade.

Cowboys That Wanted to Kill Somebody. CLINTON, Iowa, July 22.-Last night in the wild west feature of Seils' Bros. circus, the cowboys pursued the Indians, shooting revolvers, presumably with blank cartridges. At first the shots were directed low down, but finally the cowboys aimed directly at the spectators and fired. Three persons were shot, George Harrington, aged seventeen, in the center of the forehead, not expected to live; Wallace Phillips, aged fif-teen, in the head, seriously, and Mrs. A. W. Lumberton, in the lung, dangerous. One of the pursued Indians reeled and was led away by his companions, supposed to be shot, but no satisfactory explanation was made. It is reported that the cowboys wanted to kill one of the Indians, and also that they were drunk, but no arrests were made. The extent of the affair was not fully realized until after the circus had left

The shoot yesterday on the West Side range, in which the West Side Club, of Canton, took part, was not a formal match, but merely a friendly contest. Only seven members of the visiting club were on hand, and consequently full teams could not be made up. Seven lected to shoot against the visitors, and after they had been drawn there were ten men left, who shot as they do every Friday. The medals were awarded as enjoyed the shoot. The shower that came up lasted only a few minutes, and scarcely interfered at all. The appended score gives the result in detail-

Washington Letter.

Washington, D. C., July 23, 1887. When ex-Governor Alexander R Shepherd went away from Washington a few years ago, he departed in defeat and what his enemies tried their best to make disgrace. He was then "Boss" Shepherd in popular parlance. In 1879 he buried himself in the wilds of the Sierra Madre at Batopilas, Mexico, and full of ambition and working ability as ever has developed in these these eight years one of the largest mining interests in the world. The thieves who once surrounded him and betrayed him are nearly all dead or in poverty, the city that he made beautiful has grown more very hot days. Most of the trades emsplendid, and the good opinion of all sorts of people has come back to Shepherd. His arrival on a temporary visit to Washington is a matter of public rejoicing, and the local press is unanimous in his praise. Time has vindicated him, and silenced even those voices which were raised when the Congressional investigating committee fully exonerated him years ago.

The Civil Service Commission goes marching on. Not content with its victory over the small Quartermaster General's office, war is this week waged upon the Surgeon General's office, and 240 cierks of the $1,2000 and $1,000 classes were examined Tuesday. The examintion was not extremely technical and the failures, therefore, few in number. The sight of over two hundred men being examined for promotion was exhibarating to the truly good civil service advocates. A number appeared prepared for the battle with small books of eneral information covering their hearts, in their inside pockets. Arithmetic seems to puzzle the candidates more than any other branch, and many surrendered at the first question. Inasmuch as no knowledge or arithmetic whatever is necessary in the Surgeon General's office, it appears somewhat su perfluous to examine the men in this respect. But to the august commission it appears that even a postman should be able to compute like a schoolmaster. Sporadic notes have appeared of late to the effect that the Hon. Mr. Morrison, of the Inter-State Commerce Committee. was hankering after the fleshpots of Egypt, or to put in comprehensive parase, would like to run for Congress again next fall. I met a gentleman yes terday from one of the counties in Morsison soid district, and inquired concern mg the truth of this statement. "Yes, he wants to come back, and will probably get the nomination," said the St. Crair county man. "He is the only man wno can beat John Baker, who, like his Biblical namesake, the son of Nimshi, 'driveth furiously,' in a political sense, for of course the Republicans will nommate him. Baker represents the district now, you know. It is quite a foregone conclusion that Mr. Morrison will be non-inated for Congress again in 1888." When the President and Mrs. Cleveland return to the city they will find that most of the summer cleaning in the Executive Mansion has been done. The wals have all been washed, some of them repainted. All the chandeliers have been taken down and cleaned and put up again, including the three large ones in the East Room, each carrying 5,000 pieces of crystal. The picture frames have been renovated. Fresh matting has been put down on all the floors, and the furniture burnished up where signs of wear appeared.

John B. Alexander, the colored man who graduated from West Point recently is a native of Arkansas, but at the time of his appointment was in the freshman class of Oberlin University, O. He received his appointment as the result of a competitive examination. Four years ago, at the age of 19, he entered West Point. At that time there was some bitterness of feeling supposed to exist toward colored cadets, and it was feared by his friends that he would find it too much for him. He is now in Washington, and of enjoyment. We can desire no better replying to a question as to bis treatment when in perfect health; but how often do he said: "My treatment, on the whole, was very satisfactory. I went there at a disheartened, discouraged and worn out time when the general feeling ran pretty with disease, when there is no occasion for high against colored cadets, and at first I was slighted and snubbed somewhat, but tain satisfactory proof, that Green's August the boys gradually got out of that, and, Flower will make them free from disease as soon I was treated well and courteously. One of my instructors in cavalry practice gave me a bit of advice when I first went there that proved of great service to me. Upon my arrival he called me aside and said to me: 'Young man, all you have to do is to mind your own business, obey orders, and avoid abnormal conditions of mind and you will get along all right.' I followed his advice."

Some Timely Suggestions.

The hot spell this summer has assumed the proportion of a calamity, especially as far as the world of infants is concerned. It is difficult for most Americans to realize that our summer is more trying than it is in many tropical climes. In the West Indies, for example, the heat is never felt so much as it is done here, because in those islands there is always a sea-breeze blowing. In all other parts of the world where the thermometer reaches the figures which it attains here habits are carefully accommodated to it. Take Italy and the southern parts of France or Spain. From 12 to 5 o'clock, cities in those countries are almost like cities of the dead. People take their midday meal followed by a siesta, and go to work again until 8 or 9 o'clock. We remember in the summer of 1876, when the heat was excessive, the postmaster of this city waived the midday deliveries. We do not believe that business would suffer much, if the practice were repeated this summer throughout July and August on loying men who are exposed to the the direct rays of the sun should come to an understanding to strike work—say from 12 to 3 o'clock. Such course would not merely save many from sunstroke, but from death. Physicians say that thousands, of whom we never hear, fail to recover from the exhaustion occasioned by working in the midday sun, and eventually succumb to the effects of the exposure.—United States Economist.

It ought to be put in good shape; and the pledge then given out that no sale or other tampering with it should take place within ten years. As it now is, the sale is brought up every winter in the Legislature, and boatmen are scared out of repairing or building new boats, and coal owners are deterred from putting up chutes and docks, lest that by the time they are fixed up the canal should be abandoned or gobbled by a railroad. Our Legislature is doing the public works more injury by this continued uncertainty, than all the public enemies in the State.

The Daily Indupersular wishes to be at once a pleasure and convenience to the people of Massillon. It wants them to read it, think about it and write to it. It wishes them to consider it their property and not a private enterprise. It this is done there will be no limit to its usefulness

The Independent's Telephone No. is 72.

FRIDAY, JULY 29, 1887.

Not many new fences have gone up, nor have many gone down.

The Hon. T C. Snyder's name is now included in that interesting list of candidates, as an aspirant for senatoria' honors.

The advantages of having a competing telegraph line is fully appreciated by newspaper publishers about convention time.

A well managed convention of any kind is a glorious advertisement for any town. Massillon ought to attempt to have a few.

Has the board of health had a meeting since January' A member of the board exposed his ignorance of the fact that that body had regular meeting nights, the other day. It should be called to order the first Thursday of each month.

The death of General Comly, the editor of the Toledo Commercial, just the night before the great Re publican convention, was one of the really sad events that greatly affected the hundreds of newspaper men who happened to be in the city.

We have a state board of health. a board of pubbe works and a canal with a nice green semm on it. Let's abolish the three, for what do they amount to, now, anyway. The green governorship. There is every rea scum is the most powerful agent of the lot, and it is a power for lad.

Mayor Hewitt, of New York, is evidently in favor of small parks and plenty of them. On this point the founders of Massillon anticipated Mayor Rewitt's views by about forty years, for we have either live or six parks, and much good do they do us!

The Lima people are consoling themselves with the theory that their oil is being mysteriously kept down until the Standard Oil Company can get full control of the Eastern Ohio field. When that time arrives, according to the theory, the price will go bounding up and Lima will be on top of the boom

No petition to the cause he loves the beautiful and board of health has been handed in wants it for his collection. And tomorrow he comes with the finished before. While it might not do any work which he shows you, thinking good, it would lend to the objections you may be interested. And he rarely misses it.

The following are the New York Sun's able comments on the Cleveland convention:

The politics of the past two years have developed the fact that there are Democrats and there are Demoerats The Ohio convention at Cleveland yesterday nominated one of the latter class. There are platforms and there are platforms. It was a piatform belonging to the socond category that some of the Ohio Democrats adopted at Cleveland.

An Eastern exchange has looked up the origin of the word bulldose and says: In his Dictionary of Americanisms Mr. Bartlett says Bulldose originated with "Union Rights Stop" Leagues of negroes in Louisiana, oath-bound societies, which warned negroes suspected of Democratic tendencies, and if they persisted, flogged them. "Give a man a bulldoze" meant to put him to sleep at the end of a bull (or cow) hide whip.

Notwithstanding the extravagant claims of natural gas towns as favorit is a curious fact that of the 212 Philadelphia Press.

new pots that will be started with the next fire, only 70 are located i cities where natural gas is used. And that too, in the face of the public offers of land and money, that are being continually advertised. Verily it takes more than natural gas to make a paradise, although it is not to be despised.

To-day there is a reorganization of the firm controlling the establishment of which the Independent is a part. As the change will not affect the management of the paper itself, it seems unnecessary to speak of the matter outside of the advertising columns, farther than to express the hope that as a part of the Independent Company, the only difference the newspaper will feel, will be an increasc in the number of its friends.

Simply as a matter of form the central committee has ordered the judicial convention; simply as a matter of form an announcement of the candidacy of Judge Robert Raley is published; simply as a matter of justice to a wise and just judge he will be not only renominated but elected for the full term, for which his short incumbency has shown him so emine ntly well suited. And now these propositions being already conceded why is there any use of going to the trouble and expense of a convention

The column devoted to the Ohio miners in the Labor Tribune is official, and its contents are supposed to come straight from John McBride. Here is what the politic prospective condidate for State Senator on the Democrtic ticket says of himself:

To-morrow night fifteen Stark county delegates will start for the Toledo convention, with instructions to aid and support the candidacy of Senutor Courad for the lieutenant son to believe that their efforts will not be in vain. The propriety of giving a faithful incumbent a second term has never been questioned, the expediency of selecting men from opposite portions of the State has been doubted, the duty of nominating honest men for honorable offices has never been broken in Ohio, and relying upon the Toledo convention to act in accordance with these three principles, there ought to be no fear as to the result.

> The collapse of the syndicate which has come to grief through an effort to control the prune market advertises at least two important facts in regard to corners. One is that there is no such thing as compelling the community to buy what it can do without The other is that the policy of buying up perishable material for the purpose of holding it indefinitely for a higher price is radically faulty. The affection of Boarding-house proprietors who buy them solely because they are cheaper than other fruit have no reason in the world for buying them when a less expensive substitute can be found, and they will not buy them at any price after accomposition has fairly set in. The prune market will be comparatively steady for a while. -New York World.

GIVE US A CHANGE.

There was an alarm of fire yesterday afternoon, about 4 o'clock. At that time by order of the city council, the engine horses were working on the streets with the chief engineer holding the reins. At the engine house there was one man and one hand hose reel. The supposition is that now that we have water works we need no fire engine, and that that hand reel can get to the place of fire itself. This was the state of affairs in Massillon, the capital city of the valley of the Tuscarawas, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, by order of the city council.

Truly it was a noble sight to see that antiquated hose reel start off, with one man pulling it. Grand and inspiring it was to see the team of grays come dancing down Charles stree!, harnessed to a load of dirt, ready to be unhitched and attached to the reel, which the one man was endeavoring to drag to Russell's shops alone.

These are facts, lamentable facts. And the city council is to blame. Some people give the council credit for having a plan to reorganize that department. Stuff and nonsense. The city council has no more ideas about organization than the man in the moon, or the late superintendent of the waterworks. What has the council done! It has ordered a hose reel, which is not here yet and for whose proper management no arrangements have been made: it has put a new tin roof on the central engine house: it has bought fifteen hundred feet of fire hose from three different manufacturers; and it has talked about a fire alarm system. But that is not effecting an organization. The council can buy hose, horses, engines, reels and alarm system, build stations, and hire men, but it will never have a fire department until it binds its possessions together with the principles of an organization We could have that now, if the council saw fit to furnish it. But it does not see fit. It prefers to go on adding property by piece meal to a branch of the municipal government that exists in name only, which is without a head, without rules, discipline, and now witaout equipment. How long must that Massillon, the Massillon that boasts of its wealth and enterprise, the Massillon that forges ahead in everything but its government, how long must it grean under the disgrace of its coun trilied method of putting out fires?

Oh Thomas, Thomas Volkmor! were you to bestow but half the elquence you wasted on that drinking fountain, upon the fire department of your city, then would your constituents be proud of you! O ye eight wise men, who ordered the county commissioners to come, and they came not, who ordered the railroads to light, and they lighted not, who talk loud, loug and valorously of this, that and the other thing, will ye permit it always to be said that in this matter Massillon is woefully behind the tines?

The Philadelphia Times says: We have before us General Order No. 16, dated Fostoria, Ohio, June 20, 1887, issued by Walter Payne as Commander-in Chief, and T. G. Carlisle as Adjutant, and in the third section of General Order No. 16 is

A THREATENED RISE IN THE PRICE OF COAL.

If reports are true the coal barons are again plotting to raise the price of coal. The plan is said to be to commence in the summer and raise the prices by degrees from month to month, so as not to startle the public with a sudden advance later in the fall. We warn the coal companies to be careful of what they are doing. Their unwise action last winter resulted in a serious disturbance of our trade and industries. The rise in the price of coal then was followed by a demand by the employes of the companies for a proportionate increuse in wages. When the coal the people heartily for their support. barons refused to grant that demand a strike followed in which not only millions of dollars' worth of property was destroyed and human lives sacrificed, but which threatened at ernor were made, but he refused the one time to paralyze completely the | nomination. business of the country. The longshoremen took up the cause of the coal heavers and struck, and our large dry goods houses and manufacturers had to suspend their shipments or were put to heavy extra expenses in filling their orders.

The public is watching with peculiar interest the development of this new conspiracy to raise again the price of an article which has become as much a necessity of life as food, We have had severe experience in the past of the disastrons results of these coal conspiracies and protest against a repetition of the same this winter through any provocation by the great coal monopolies.—New York Economist.

THE GREATNESS OF HUMILITY. The full text of Secretary Fair-

child's remarkable speech at Fayetteville last week ought to be put on record for the benefit of posterity. Mr. Fairchild arose after the President had finished his pauther reminiscences and said:

"I thank you very much for remembering me on this day, so fraught with interest for you, when you have here with you such a distinguished citizen and friend, who has conferred so much honor on this town. I think as time goes past you will all feel the more proud of him. I thank you for mentioning my name in such a presence and at such a time.'

The Secretary of the Treasury has not received full credit for the gentle meekness and sweet humility of these utterances. The last sentence is an unconscious but not the less charming picture of unobtrusive merit. Nobody can suspect Mr. Fairchild of having annoyed the President during the last two years by howling at him.—N. Y. Sun.

The greatest misfortune that could befall mankind to-day would be to demonetize silver for the use of gold, thus destroying half their wealth, and thereby offering a premium on the other metal, that could only be restricted in its limits when threefourths of all mankind would have to succumb to the pressure of the times and go into bankruptey, while the remaining few could not to profit immensely by the losses imposed upon others through a very dangerous and vicious legislation.—United States Economist.

The Wheeling & Lake Eric Railroad

The Cadiz Republican says: "Mr. A. B. Paul, the well-known agent of the Mt. Vernon, Coshocton & Wheeling railway (Cannon ball line) was in town on Monday morning, this week, his first visit here for several months. In conversation, Mr. Paul said that the Wheeling & Lake Erie road was going to be completed from Bowerstown to the Ohio river, on the route as originally sorveyed, by way of Hopedale,—that it could not take any other route, as that would be forbidden by its charter. When asked why the Wheeling & Lake Erie folks had recently made a survey by way of Cadiz, he replied that that was simply for the purpose of demonstrating the fact that the Hopedale route was five miles shorter than the other But when asked why the company had taken out a new charter for building a road through Harrison and Jefferson counties, he said he didn't know. Mr. Paul said further, that all his interests were bound up in the Cannon ball line, and that it was going to be a success, as the people out here would find out be-

Difficulties of Securing Lodgings-A

At a horribly early hour, the representative of the Independent was roused from his peaceful slumber in a lower half of a B. & O. sleeping car, by the tales of a half a dozen worn out delegates who had been tramping the steets from midnight until morning unable to secure places to lay their heads. Origiare the recipients, without distinction, of naily the party had consisted of eight, but a kind-hearted policeman had taken the two oldest and found them lodgings Toledo is brim full and running over, and every hour is bringing in thousands more. There was an excursion here last night from West Virginia, and fifty of the ladies of the party were obliged to

The editor of a Warren paper, whom I met this morning, told me his experionce with a daily paper in Transbull county. He said he started one year age, in the face of established competition. It was about half the size of the INDEPENDENT and sold for one cent. But it was no go. So he began to print it on light green paper. But even the seductive qualities of light green paper would not make the merchants advertise in it. Then he reduced the price to three cents a week, and still those obdurate Yankees would not have it. He told me that he flattered himself that he had run the only green paper in the world, and the only half a cent paper in the world, even if those Warren people did not like it. Queer people up in the Reserve. The Toledo people are doing all in their power to advertise their town. Their hospitality knows no limit, and with each breath they cleverly insert a remark about the town and its growth. Every fifty feet you strike a string of bills, each of which has for its head, "Points about Toledo." The coal and grain trades are properly puffed, the railroads properly boomed, and even the health comes in for its share of praise. Of course it would not do to doubt our hosis' statements, but for a town built up in the Maumee swamps to say "Toledo is, without a single exception, the healthiest city in the Union," makes one wish that old Bill Jones were alive, so that they could prove it. It is now 7 o'clock in the morning. Columbia O., July 22.—The miners of The candidates were up betimes, and there is lots of fun to be seen at the Boody House.

At the Boody House,

Tolebo, July 27.-The Boody House is he center of Ohio just now, and woe to the chances of the candidate who has engaged quarters elsewhere. It is now a seething mass of perspiring politicians, and the number is growing larger every minute. Nearly everybody has a badge of some sort, but the Foraker ribbons are the favorites. Hundreds of small boys are selling them, and find a ready market. Some are merely headed "Vim, Vigor and Victory. J. B. Foraker for 1 state. Appraised at $5,300.

Governor," but the most popular has an alleged quotation under the portrait which reads, "No surrender of the rebel flags while I am governor."

There is one noticeable thing about the jam for such it now is, and that is that it is composed of gentlemen. There is confusion, but it is the confusion of numbers, not of rudeness.

On the second floor Senator Sherman and Foster have one room, which is constantly full. There the Senator, tall and gracious, has a friendly word for all. All the parlors next to him are taken up by candidates for the minor offices. Senator Conrad has a fine airy room, and every minute some of his many friends come along, with a string of delegates behind. Mr. Conrad is the best known man who sat in the last legislature, and it is really surprising, even to his best Stark county friends, to see so many who have claims to an acquaintance. Captain Lyons, his principal competitor, has a room in the extreme end of the

The Toledo Press Club.

The entertainment furnished by the Toledo Press Club to its visitors was something remarkable. It seemed as if every possible thought of the guests had been anticipated. Tickets, lodgings, meals, everything that could conduce to the comfort of the flesh was contributed by this energetic club Though the press of Toledo keenly felt the loss of General Comly, who died last night, its efforts were not slackened. A large building was thrown open to the newspaper men, supplied with stacks of paper, pencils, ink, telegraph blanks and a host of messenger boys. A committee distributed tickets to the convention and the various exeursions and entertainments, and another committee pointed the way to a charmingly farnished refreshment room, where coal black darkies showered aftentions of a creature kind. In this room the eatables were as free as air, at all hours, and the different kinds were each mentioned on a unique and pretty menu eard. At the top were the words "Toledo Press Club" interwoven with miniatures of the local journals, and a natural gas derrick. Along the left side a row of irogs rose up from a bunch of cat-tails, making a scene particularly appropriate. On the right side a string of newspapers carried another idea. Over the word "menu" was the motto "Vera Pro Graffis," a very proper sentiment, followed by "may" good digestion wait on appetite, and good health on both." And here is the bill of

No one need remain ignorant of the strange or interesting flowers that may be found during summer rambles in the fields and woods, for Mr. E. E. Sterns, 23 Union Square, New York, offers to furnish, without charge, the scientific and popular names of any plant in flower or (or fern) that may be sent to him. It is a pity that some expert in entymology does not make a similar obliging offer as to the butterflies, beetles and other insects that often arouse the curiosity of those who find them.

New York, July 22.-In the suit of Townsend Cox against Edward Stokes and the United Lines Telegraph Company, Judge Barrett to day denied the application for a receiver because it is unnecessary, but says that Mr. Stokes unquestionably represented the re-organization committee in the purchase of the Bankers' and Merchants' Telegraph Company. Judge Barrett grants an injunction pending the suit against the securities in the Trust Company.

The Second Assessment.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

Passenger Train No. 10 Strikes Johnny Harris, a Five-Year-Old Son of Jack Harris.

Thursday morning about 10:30 o'clock as the east bound passenger train was crossing Cherry street it struck the fiveyear-old son of Jack Harris, a rolling mill employe, inflicting serious injuries from which he may not recover.

Little Johnnie had been on a berrying expedition up the railroad and was walking between the rails near the crossing, when he discovered the approaching train and started to run but slipped and fell, getting up in time to have got out of danger, but he seemed to have been in a sort of dazed condition and could not move, the engine striking him on the head and throwing him between the rails, and that and three coaches passed over him. His escape from instant death is miraculous, but he is very small and only received injuries when struck by the engine, which, however, are of a very serious nature. Dr. Pease was passing at the time, but being on his way to visit a critical sase in the country, could do no more than relieve the little fellow in his suffering. Dr. Ridenour was sent for and dressed his wounds and pronounced them not necessarily fatal. He received several ugly gashes on the forehead and some on the top of the head.

Office of Assistant Dairy and Food Commissioner.

JEFFERSON O., July 25, 1887. Mr. Editor:

The dairymen of Ohio ask of the Ohio Legislature a law to prevent the sale of bogus butter and bogus cheese, except upon their merits and in a fair and legal manner. At the same time they promised perfect honesty in the genuine goods made in the dairy upon the farm and also in the cheese factories of our State. The dairy commissioners spent weeks of time and at great expense to distribute these new dairy laws among the cheese factories so that none would ignorantly err. Thus far the cheese factories, as a rule, have in perfect good faith most cheerfully complied with the law in letter and spirit. For this we thank them, but for the exceptions we have no words of praise.

I am sorry to report that on the 14th inst I found the cheese factory of J. P. Smith, in Mantua, Portage county, full of skimmed milk cheese. His new fresh milk is received of his patrons twice a day, put into pails twenty inches high and eight inches in diameter, then set into a deep ice water cooling vat, and twelve homs cream taken from each mess of milk and the skimmed milk then made into cheese. There is not oil or butter fat enough left in such cheese, to make a victim desire to swallow a second mouth tul, providing he accomptishes that feat with his first. You must have moisture in the mouth, of some kind, to masticate consultation with his cheesemaker, concluded to violate the dairy law of Ohio by exposing these choose for sale, without the legal brand upon them or the package in which they were placed, "Made from skimmed failk." For this criminal net he was arraigned in the probate court of Portage county, July 20, where he pleaded guilty and paid the minimum fine the law allows, fitty dollars and costs, and hereafter will place a far disterent interpretation apon our dairy lay. Mr. Smith sold his cheese for what it actually was to the Wellington dealer at The well-known sheep and grain farm | four cents a pound. The Wellington of the late John Frank. of Uniontown, denier sold it to the retail trade at four stark county, Ohio, will be sold to the and three-fourths to five cents a pound, and three-tourths to five cents a pound, but I am attaid these men have sold it as high as ten or twelve cents, because the cultivation. It includes a sheep and proper brand was not placed upon the box. The law clearly makes if the dury of every dealer who handles or sells it for consumption to keep a tair brand upon the package from which they sell the cheese, "made from skimmed milk." If is the carnest desire of our commission that all dealers obey the law and help our efforts to advance the reputation of Ohio cheese. Friday, July 22, I found another case nearer home, a report of which I reserve for the next chapter.

Respectfully, HENRY TALCOPT, Assistant Dairy and Food Commissioner for 3d district.

That Tired Feeling

The warm weather has a debilitating effect, especially upon those who are within doors most of the time. The peculiar, yet common, complaint known as "that tired feeling," is the result. This feeling can be entirely overcome by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives new life and strength to all the functions of the body.

"I could not sleep; had no appetite. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling; and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, Ohio.

Strengthen the System

Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of remedial agents; 2d, the proportion; 3d, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities. The result is a medicine of unusual strength, effecting cures hitherto unknown. Send for book containing additional evidence. "Hood's Sarsaparilla tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over." J. P. Thompson, Register of Deeds, Lowell, Mass.

"Heod's Sarsuparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. Barrington, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

OLEVELAND CONVENTION.

THE DEMOCRATS OF OHIO NOMI-NATE A STATE TICKET.

General Thomas Powell Nominated for Governor On the Second Ballet .- D. C. Coolman Placed Second On the Ticket. Rest of the State Officers Nominated.

OLEVELAND, O., July 22.-The spacious Music hall of the Forest City was crowded in every part at 11 o'clock this merning when Chairman Henry Bohl, of the state central committee, rapped the Democratic state convention to order. Six hundred and fifty delegates and as many alternates occupied the seats upon the ground floor, while the two tiers of galleries was a sea of faces and a beautiful combination of white and bright huel feminine apparel. Back of the elaborate display of exotic acd potted plants which was arranged upon the stage, sat four or five hundred of the creme-de-la-creme of Ohio's Democracy, and a goodly number of the fairest belles of Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Toledo and other Ohio cities.

A bronze statue of Liberty beamed down upon the assemblage from the right of the chairman's desk, and from the organ another goddess, this one upon canvas, peeped coyly from between the folds of two French tri-colored flags; an enormous floral design was pendant from the center of the ceiling; there was an abundant display of bunting, and the entire ensemble was inspiring in the extreme. The welcoming remarks of Chairman Bohl were brief and to the point. Just as he had commenced Senator H. B. Payne was escorted to a seat upon the stage, and his appearance was greeted with feeble and short lived applause.

The committee on permanent organization submitted the name of Hon. George G. Sensy as chairman, and the popular representative of the Fifth congressional district was received with round after round of ap-

The following platform was then read: "The Democratic party of Ohio in convention assem' and proclaims its hearty and unqualified indorsoment of the honost, patriotic and economical administration of President Cleveland, We demand such judicious reduction of the of the present burdensome tariff as shall result in producing a revenue sufficient only to meet the expenses of an economical administration of government, the payment of liberal pensions to Union soldiers and sailors and the payment of the interest and principal of the public debt; and, if necessary, we favor such reduction of internal revenue, except on liquors, as will prevent the accumulation of a surplus in the National trensury, and we denomice any attempt to abolish the tax on liquors for the purpose of keeping up the present unjust, unequal and onerous tariff of our growth and horitage of our people. It should promise limitless development and riches, relief to a crowding population and homes to thrift and industry. These mestiroable advantages should be jealously gnarded, and a careful and enlightened policy on the part of the government should secure them to the people.

"We demand that all lands of the government be held for actual settlers who are citizens of the United States, and for those who declare their intention to become such.

"We are in hearty sympathy with all people struggling to free themselves from the environment of despotism, and especially does the long and gullant struggle of treland for the priceless boon of Home Rule, and the rights of manhood awake our warmest applause and command our heartiest good wisles for speedy success.

"Labor being the chief factor and great conservator of free and liberal institutions, should enjoys its full share of the common benefits derived therefrom; therefore, we favor such restraints of the centralization and encroachment of corporate power as will bring the best possible protection of honest labor, and at the same time conserve the interests of honesity employed expital. We favor such legislation on the question as will prevent the landing, for permanent residence of allons who are not willing to declars their intention of becoming citizens of the United States. We declare our oppogitton to the importation of contract labor, and we demend speedy punishment of all Lersons inciting riot and revolution against republican institutions.

<sup>1</sup>:We denounce the present Rapublican state administration as work, partisan, persound and unobusiness-like; we call upon the people of Ohio to turn out of power a state government whose only apparent mission is to augment expenditures, multiply offices, create deficiences and increase taxation, with the bankruptcy of the treasury as the ultimate result; we denounce the late Republican legislature for its cowardly and hypocritical alliance, through intrigue with the Republican board of public works and the Ropublican attorney general, in a scheme whereby millions of dollars' worth of property of the state is to be transferred to corporations interested in creating a monopoly of transportation, without the state or the prople thereof receiving any benefit there-

"We demand the fullest safeguards for the ballot-hox, the punishment of all who seek to corrupt it, and the quaetment of a law making it a felony for corporations, capitalists or employers to intimidate or attempt to control the political action of their employes. We favor home rule in the management of and control of municipal affairs, and denounce the partisan acts passed by the late Republican legislature to subserve the interests of scheming politicians; and we demand the repeal of all laws which deprive the electors of the exercise of their constitutional privileges.

"The commercial and industrial interests of the state inquire that equal use of all transportation facilities be secured to all on equal terms, and we demand that favoritism by common carriers, and the employment of corporate franchises to foster monopolies oppress the people be prohibita by law and that pools, combinations, crusts, or conspiracies to corner or forestall the market, and to crush free competition, be suppressed by legislation. We declare in favor of a proper regulation of the liquor traffic, and believe it to be the duty of all good citizens to aid in reducing to a minimum the evils resulting therefrom, and to this end favor the submission of an amendment to the constitution providing for the license of such traffic.

When the reading of the platform had been conjuded the announcement was made that the committee had been unanimous on its clauses save and except the last to which four members dissented. Opposition to the first clause endorsing the administration has been expected from several sources but when the question was put the resolutions were unanimously and enthusiastically adopted. So far the convention has done its work with a rush.

At 11:40 nominations for governor were declared in order, and Hon. James G. Neal. of Butler county, took the platform for the purpose of submitting the name of Congressman J. E. Campbell. He oulogized his candidate as the favorite son of Ohio, who had never yet met defeat and who, though young in years, had already achieved a famous record for ability, efficiency, faithfulness and honesty in the public service. , and foul play is feared.

He claimed for him the support of the laboring element and the cordial co-operation of the junior senator for Ohio. Campbell's name was well received, as was also that of Gen. Powell, who was placed in nomination by Charles W. Beker, of Ciucinnati, in a speech which was a general arraignment of the Republican party, state and national. The third and last name to be placed in nomination was that of Congressman M. A. Foran, Hon. Echo M. Heisly, of Cleveland, was his eulogist, and his speech was flowing and oratorical.

Ex-Congressman Isaac M. Jordan, of Cincinnati, seconded the nomination of Camp-

At 12:41 the first ballot was taken and resulted as follows: Powell, 321; Campbell, 251; Foran, 8s. Necessary to a choice, 330. After the result of the first ballot had been declared the Campbell men made an unsucressful attempt to force an adjournment. Balloting was immediately recommended. Contrary to expectation the Powell men held firmly in line, while they received acressions from the Campbell column. When this was recognized by the Foran delegates they made an effort in the direction of sustaining Campbell, but it was too late. Had the anticipated coalation of the Foran and Campbell delegations gone into operation carlier on the second ballot, the latter would have received seven more than the necessary majority.

The result of the second ballot showed that Powell had received 350 1-2 votes; Campbell, 251 1-2, and Foran, 56, Powell's nomination was made unanimous. For lieutenant governor, D. C. Coolman of Portage county; L. Wadsworth, of Loraine; George V. Tyler, of Browne, and John McBride, of Stark, were placed in nomination. The latter declined, and the first bullot resulted: Coolman, 311 1-2; Tyler,

Before the second ballot was commenced, Candidate Powell was introduced and expressed his thanks in an able but somewhat lengthy speech, and Congressman Campbell pledged his own featty and that of his supporters to the ticket. At this point Tyler and Wadsworth were withdrawn, and Coolman was nominated for lieutenant governor by acclamation.

253; Wadsworth, 91 1-2,

For supreme judge, long term, L. J. Critchfield, of Holmes county, was nominated by acclamation.

For supreme judge, short term, the contest was between Vigil P. Kline, of Cleveland, and John A. Leedom, of Urbana. The bullot resulted: Kline, 431; Leedom, 224. The first and only row of the day was precipitated when the nomination for state auditor was reached. Emile Keisewetter, the present incumbent, was placed in nomination, and almost before one-half of the delegates could comprehend what was going on, a motion to suspend the rules and make the nomination by acclamation had been put and declared carried. Against this decision the Hamilton county delegation protested loud and long, while John McBride, the Stark county labor agitator, declared amidst considerable excitement that he would built the nomination and take the stump against the nominee unless fair play was granted.

A ballot was called for on an appeal from the decision from the chair, but at this point Mr. Kiesewatter poured oil on the troubled waters by declaring from the body of the hall that he didn't want a nomination to which the stigma of gug law might be attached. By the unanimous consent of the convention the chair was allowed to recall all tint he had done in the matter, and Joseph G. Curley, of Urbana, was placed in nomination by the Champaign county delegation. The roll was called with the following result: Kiesewetter, 569; Curley, 69. G. W. Harper, of Greene, was nominated by acclamation for treasurer.

W. H. Leet, of Putam county, had no opposition for the nomination for attorney gonera..

Two bullots were necessary to secure a IL THE DORREOF DUDIE works. The principal contestants were C. E. Addison, of Muskingum, and Peter Murphy, of Buttor.

The second bailot resulted: Murphy, 351; Addison, 207.

A cordial vote of thanks to the citizens committee for it admirable arrangements and entertainment of the delegates was passed, and at 3555 p. m., after a continuous session of five hours, the convention adjourned sine die.

FIFTEEN ITALIANS KILLED.

An Express Train Dashes Into a Gang of Track Laborers. New York, July 22 -A frightful railroad accident occurred this morning on the Eric railroad, between "Allendale and Hohokus. A gang of Italian laborers were at work bullasting on the railroad a little distance from a sharp curve in the road about three-quarters of a mile above Hohokus. The Chicago express, which was due an hour before had not arrived, and these men were busy at work, unconscious of the terrible fate which was in store for them. At a quarter past 7 o'clock train No. 13, the express, which was due an hour previous, dished round the curve before the men had the slightest warning and struck the gang of men, killing twelve or fifteen on the spot and wounding many more,

The shricks of the victims were heart-ronding, and when the train slowed up the track presented a sickening sight, being covered up with mangled bodies, the rails being spattered with blood and strewn with broken iones and ragged flesh. Some of the bodies were manufled beyond description and crushed out of semblance to humanity. To most of the victims death must have been instantaneous, but some of them seemed to be in the last throes of death when the train was brought to a standstill. The train waited about fifteen minutes and then proceeded on its way.

Mr W. .. Hudson, a passenger on a local train following the express, said to a United I ress reporter that the scene at the place of the accident was the most sickening he ever saw. "All along the track," continued Mr. Hudson, "are strewn arms, legs, trunks and other parts of bodies and the tracks for a long distance is slippery with blood. The train must have dashed into the midst of the men before they were aware of their danger. The conductor of the train upon which I rode said that the train hands of the express were not to blame and said the foreman of the gang should have been on the lookout and warned the men of the approach of the train. None of the names of the victims could be ascertained,

General Sherman in Quebec. QUEBEC, July 22.—The steam yacht Meteor, having on board Gon, W. T. ## IRON AND STEEL IMPORTS.

HOW THE MANUFACTURING BUSI-NESS IS ON A BOOM.

Seventy-Five Thousand Tons of English Steel Rails Imported, and All Our Home Furnaces and Rolling Mills Have Been Busy Too-Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, July 22.-A curious and interesting feature of the record of the fiscal year just ended is the remarkable increase in importation of railroad iron. While the iron and steel manufacturing business of this country has been "booming," and we have been pluming ourselves upon the fact that our iron industries were developing to such a degree as to render us independent of the entire iron world outside, "our friends the enemy" have been quietly filling our custom houses and our markets with railroad iron, and English rails are being spread upon our railroads in a way to make the home producer shudder. The figures of the year's work in this particular are just being completed by the bureau of statistics, and they show an importation of nearly 75,000 tons.

"You see," said Chief Clerk Whitney, of the bureau of statistics, talking of this curious development, "the prices of English Iron and steel rails in England suddenly went down from about $30 per ton to about $20, and the result was that it became possible to ship them here, pay the tariff on them, and yet come into competion with our American rails. That is the way it happened. The importation of steel rails for the year, you see, will be nearly seven times as much as those of the preceding year."

"How does it happen that there was such a tumble in prices over theref.'

"I suppose there was an overproduction. That is the way the English manufacturers do it generally. When they find that they have overstocked the market they generally get together and arrange a plan for putting their production the markets of the world at an agreed price at so low a figure that they cannot help getting purchasers.'

The railroad iron imports are curious, but not much more so than a good many other articles in the iron line. The last year, as everybody knows, has been one of remarkable activity in the iron trade except the first five months. Yet the figures now being made up in the bureau of statistics are going to show an importation of about $50,000,000 worth of iron and steel and articles manufactured thereof. This will be a remarkable showing, for it will be an increase of twenty-five per cent. over the preceding year, and greater than any former year with perhaps four exceptions. The largest item in the year's imports under the head of "Iron and Steel Manufacturers of" is tin. The value of this article alone imported during the year just ended will amount to $17,000,000. Besides the steel rails imported during the year, which were an increase of forty per cent. over last year, there was a like increase in the importation of "ingots," blooms, slabs, bullets and bars of steel.

The record now being made up will show the importation in this line during the year just ended as being nearly $6,000,000 in value against less than $2,000,000 in the former year. In pig iron the proportions have almost doubled during the past year, and in scrap iron for manufacturing, the importations of the past twelve months are five times as great as those during the preceeding year. The importation of iron in the year just closed, as stated above, amounts to nearly $50,000,000. Of this $1,-000,000 worth will be pig iron, $3,500,000 scrap iron, fit only to be remanufactured, steel railway bars $1,500,000, bar iron $2,-000,000, ingots, bloom, etc., nearly 200, tin plates $17,000,000, wire and rods $4,000,000, cutlery and fivearms $2,000,000 each. The duty paid on this amounts to $11,000,000. The duty paid on imported iron and steel and articles manufactured of iron and steel, since 1874, amounts to about an even $200,000,000, and the value of the imports themselves to $600,000,000. The alarm that was felt a month ago with reference to the iron trade manufacture in this country, caused as it was by the sudden stagnation in demand and prices, seems to have given way to a more hopeful and confident feeling. The market has developed a good deal of strength despite the hot weather, and the general outlook is deemed very satisfactory. Indications of a heavy demand for early consumption are numerous and not to be mistaken. Stocks everywhere are now light, too, and it is believed that the manufacturers will have all they want to do during the next few months at least. Prices on orders that have been piaced are about the same as last season.

Banker Fish's Pardon Application. Washington, July 22.—The president has pigeon-holed convict banker Fisn's application for pardon, and is not likely to ever consider it. The dispatch adds that Ferdi nand Ward wrote the president asking permission to make a statement before Fish should be pardoned, as he had some interesting revelations to make. The re ly was made that Ward would be given a hearing before any action was taken.

REMARKABLE RESCUE.

A Miner Imprisoned in a Mine for One Hundred and Ten Hours.

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 23.—After an imprisonment of 110 hours in the Grand Junction coal mine, Charley Sanders, a miner, was released and rescued alive yestorday noon. The mine in which he was working was flooded by the caving in of an old shaft near by last Monday morning. As the water rushed in the miners fled, and all escaped save the young man Sanders, who was cut off by the rising flood. Pumps were set to work, but one after another failed, and as day followed day it seemed impossible that the boy could be alive, even if he escaped drowning. The state mine inspector joined the rescuing party and took active charge of the pumps, and after contimuous working, at 4:45 p. m., yesterday, the water was lowered sufficiently to admit an entrance.

The family of the imprisoned minor had given him up and expected only to find his lifeless body. But, to the astonishment of of all, the rescuers found in a distant airchamber, a little corner walled up by dirt, and inside it, safe and sound, the young man, who had been confined there without food or nourishment of any kind for 110 hours. The rising water had compressed the air in the little chamber about ten feet long, which he occupied, and thus kept a supply which sustained him. He complained of hunger but otherwise wa muite well. The town is wild over his rescue, and his escape is regarded as one of the most marvelous on record.

REPORTS SHOWING THE PRESENT CONDITION OF BUSINESS.

Business Progressing Well, Crop Prospects Excellent, from Production Larger Than Any Previous Period and Money in Abundant Supply-Failures.

NEW YORK, July 25.-R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly review of trade, says: With business progressing well throughout the country, crop prospects excellent, iron production larger than at any previous period, and money in abundant supply, Wall street is disturbed because a dream it has been chasing for months suddenly fades away, and Mr. Garrett announces the failure of Mr. Ives to buy the Baltimore & Ohio.

The incident illustrates the weakness of Wall street as a barometer. For four months the street has been discounting the beneficent results of this expected "settlement," and all sorts of purchases, loans, commitments and calculations have been based thereon. But for these the retention of the Baltimore & Ohio by its old owners would disturb nobody. But now litigation, involving the value of many properties, direct and indirect, had been commenced, and may overcloud with uncertainty for some time, and meanwhile no one waits to buy a share in a lawsuit.

Wheat at 51 3-4 for No. 2 red winter in July is lower than it has been before in that month for more than forty years, and close to the lowest price in that period for any month. This is the direct result of a speculation which drew many million bushels from farmers' hands, where cost of carrying was nothing, into the hands of dealers who are anxious to unload before the new wheat

The twenty million bushels in a few elevators are heavier than fifty million bushels would be in farmers' bins. Small purchases from farmers for some time to come are probable, and the consequent delay in a demand for money to use in crop-moving may possibly prove helpful.

Prices generally are low, in spite of many speculations. As evidence of the absorption of floating capital in fixed forms, and its effects, it may be stated that the same quantities of articles, representing nine-tentus of the aggregate consumption of the country, which could have been bought a year ago for $100, would now cost only about $100.30, and they were not 4 per cent. higher in Jannary last. So small a change in prices, after an expansion of $65,000,000 during the year in circulation, is surprising.

Cotton is tending downward, with liquidation following several important failures, but goods are comparatively scarce and prices well maintained.

Woolens are as usual unsatisfactory, foreign competition at low prices combining with a slack demand for goods to discourage producers. But some kinds of iron and steel look stronger, though the market for stell rails seems less firm. A sale of 25,000 tons Bessemer iron at above $20 is reported, and at the same time a large sale of rails for Pacific delivery at prices below current quotations. Reports from all parts of the country are uniformly favorable as to state of trade for the season, and collections are reported good or fair at all points save two. The crop prospects are also pronounced more favorable, though the extent of damage done by the drouth and insects cannot be determined. Failure to enforce the interstate act as was expected results in disappointment to some localities; but the v clums f exchanges, and the returns of railroad earnings, show that business is, on the whole, larger than a year ago.

Auxiety about the supply of money for the fall revives discussion of treasury operations, but indications are that no purchase of bonds will be made if it can be avoided. The treasury has taken in $2,000,000 more than it has paid out during the past week-$800,000 gold, $600,0000 silver and $606,000 legal tender-but large disbursements are expected about August 1. Exports improve, for three weeks having exceeded last year's by 6 per cent., against the increase of 15.6 per cent, in imports, Foreign exchange tends upward, however, and some sales of securities on foreign account are reported. The course of stocks has indicated hesitation and weakness, and the narrow bank reserves for the season affect with timidity most speculative markets.

The business failures during the last seven days number for the United States 147, for Canada 25; total 172, compared with 179 week and 183 for the corresponding week last year,

A. T. STEWART'S ESTATE.

Another Suit Agaist Judge Hilton to Set Aside Mrs. Stowarts Transfer.

New York, July 25.—The litigation around the estate of Alexander T. Stewart appears to be interminable. The last published important action begun was that of Prescott Hall Butler, who, about the middle of February last, filed notice of pendency of action in a suit to set aside what is known as the trust clause in the will of Mrs. Cornelia M. Stewart. Mr. Butler's great aim was to reduce ex-Judge Henry Hilton's influence and power as a trustee under the document to as near nothing as possible,

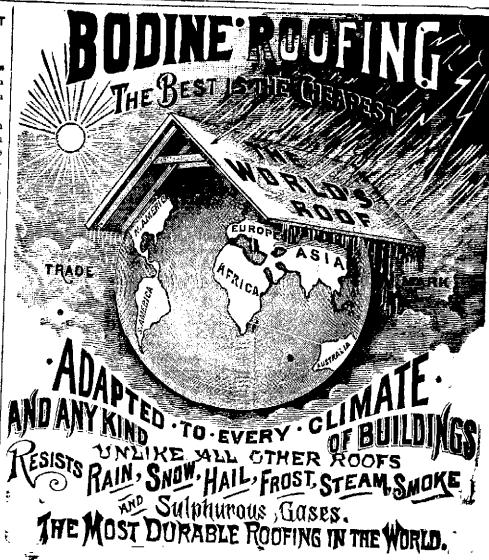

Mr. Butler's mother-in-law, Mrs. J. Lawrence Smith, has now begun another suit against Mr. Hilton. The purpose of this is to have an accounting and to set aside the transfer of the dry goods business made by Mrs. Stewart in 1877. A. T. Stewart died in April of that year. The present action differs in important particulars from the suit instituted by Mr. Butler. In his action he devoted a large part of his complaint to allegations of undue influence exerted by Mr. Hilton upon the mind of Mrs. Stewart, This feature does not appear in the present complaint, which, without this, however, is still a formidable document. Mrs. Smith recites the well known facts relative to the transfer, and makes the assertion that it was unlawfully made, against the lawful interests of the rightful heirs, and not in accordance with the intention of Mr. Stewart as declared in his will. The sum of $1,000,000, for which provision was made, was intended, it is assorted, as a full and ample discharge of all obligations of the estate to Judge Hilton for conducting or closing out the business. Among the property to which attention is called as having passed improperly to Mr. Hilton's hands are the buildings at Broadway and Chambers streets, and the large retail business at Tenth street. The transfer of the property is held to have been made without authority, and in a manner demanding an investigation and an accounting.

SCIENCE AND PROGRESS.

AN INSTRUMENT THAT MAKES RANGE FINDING AN EASY MATTER.

A Form of Serpent Which Plays an Important Part in the Indian Traditions of America-Curious Facts About a Rare and Beautiful Bird.

After infinite labor and expenditure of much time Dr. Guillemard, the English explorer, while taking observations in Kamscatka and New Guinea, succeeded in securing alive two or three specimens of that most rare bird, selencides nigricans, the twelve wired bird of paradise. In his illustrated work entitled "The Cruise of the Marchesa," ecently published, Dr. Gaillemard describes this bird.

TWELVE WIRED BIRD OF PARADISE. The subular plumes, who a prolonged and wire like shafts have gi en the bird its English name, are of a ric 1 golden vellow, and the pectoral shield, when spread, shows to advantage its tipping of metallic emerald. These creatures feed on the fruit of the pandanus, with an occasional crekwach as a relish. In devouring the insects, which they do by throwing them in the air and catching them again, they display the wonderful grass green coloring of the inside of the mouth and throat. A male bird that was caught tamed readily, but the least fall of temperature affected bim, and he died before Dr. Gaillemard got beyond the tropics with him.

The natives of New Guinea will often search a mouth in the forest to find the usual roosting place of one of these birds. Having found the tree, the hunter conceals himself beneath it, and having noted the exact branch chosen climbs up at night and noiselessly places a cloth over the unsuspecting victim.

A New Measuring Instrument.

Professor Cerobitani, of Verona, is credited with having contrived an ingenious instrument for ascertaining the distances of accessible and inaccessible points from the observer and from each other-in a word, an easy method of range finding. The apparatus consists mainly of a pair of telescopes mounted on a stand and fixed on a tripod for use. The telescopes are both brought to bear on the object, and a reading is then taken on a graduated scale on the instrument, which, compared with a set of printed tables, gives the distance. Distances can be measured between far off objects, and, by means of a sheet of paper fixed on a drawing board, a rough plan of the country under measurement can be made. In the same way the distances of ships at sea or of moving objects on land may be determined. Thus, the contrivance appears to be well adapted, not only for land surveying, but particularly so for military purposes. It is stated to have been already adopted in this latter connection by the German govern-

The Serpent Symbol.

The occurrence of the serpent symbol, or serpent myths, among many tribes of American Indians is noted by all ethnological students. In a recent issue of Science occur some notes on a peculiar form of serpent which plays an important part in the traditions of the northwest American natives.

THE SISIUTL, A SERPENT SYMBOL.

The cut represents this characteristic symbol, or sisual as it is termed. It shows a double headed snake with a known face in the center. It is known to the Selish tribes of the Gulf of Georgia, and to the numerous tribes of Kwakinti lineage. It is the crest of one of the gentes of the Kwakiuti, who paint it on their house fronts. The beam which supports the heavy rafters of their houses is carved so as to represent the "SisiutI," as it is called by the Kwakiuti, and the drums, chairs and dancing implements of the gens have it for their ornament. A beam of this kind is in the museum at Ottawa, Ont.

The traditions referring to the Sisiutlare very numerous. One of the most remarka ble is that of Qaniqilaq, the son of God, descended from heaven and met the Sisintl. He killed it, skinned it, and took out its eyes. The latter he used as stones for his sling, the tormer as a belt, and both served him to accomplish many exploits.

Fresh Water Pearls.

The cultivation of fresh water mussels has become an industry of considerable importance in Saxony and other parts of Germany. The pearls are generally inferior to those of the genuine pearl oysters, but occasionally a gem of real excellence is produced. Some very fine settings of seed were exhibited at the exposition of Berlin. The Venetians carried on this branch of trade to a considerable extent during the Middle Ages, and controlled it until 1621, when the elector of Saxony also undertook it, at the suggestion of Moritz Schmirler, a draper of Oelsnitz, and appointed Schmirler "first pearl fisher." On his death he was succeeded by his son, and the business has continued in the family until the present day, under the superintendency of the forestry department, in whose care are the waters of

The Old Theory in Regard to Fire. The old theory in regard to fire, according to Building, is becoming obsolete. The idea was formerly that the fire should be confined and smothered if possible, for lack of air, but the modern idea is to give vent to the building that the flames and smoke and heat may escape, in order that the firemen may gain access to the building and concentrate their efforts to the extinguishing of the fire. In a building filled with flames and smoke it is almost impossible to locate the fire, and the firemen are at a loss how to direct their efforts for its extinguishment. A building once cleared of the smother, and it is not difficult to reach the fire. That this plan is successful is demonstrated by the fact that in our large cities the loss by each fire is very much less than formerly.

ALL AROUND THE HOUSE.

Up Stairs, Down Stairs, in the Kitchen and in the Lady's Parlor.

Favorite materials that continue to be used in upholstery, as enumerated by The Decorator and Furnisher, are mottled silk plushes. foliage designs in deeper shades than ground and shadows introduced, also fringed borders of berries, leaves and buds; Alhambra plush and mohair, plain and embossed, electra or long napped; the trisee plush--these for furniture covers. Indian silk Madras is much used for curtains; for portieres velour Bagdad, velour Trevize, Turcoman and jute velours continue to have their hold on fashion. Favorite hues for fringes are coral, blue, old gold, golden red, apple olive and lavender.

In screens, the three leaved ones, of which each panel shows such figures as gallants and ladies in quaint, picturesque costume, painted in subdued but warm and rich colors, are just now great favorites with buyers. Some of the frames are of white wood, polished and varnished so as to show the grain of the wood, the ends having outstanding bars, and the top ornamented with miniature balustrades. In others the wood is covered with fine red baize attached by imposing rows of brass-silt headed nails.

The Perfect Way to Roast Meat.

Mrs. E. P. Ewing, of the School of Domestic Economy, Iowa Agricultural college, discourses upon the roasting of meats of all kinds as follows: The method adopted should be the one that in the most perfect manner preserves all the juices inside the meat. To roast beef in the best possible manner: Place the clean cut side of the meat upon a smoking hot-pan, which must be ove! a quick fire. Press it close to the pan unt seared and slightly brown. Reverse and let the opposite side become similarly seared and brown. Then put it at once in the oven, the heat of which should be firm and steady, but not too intense, and leave it undisturbed until cooked. The time that should be allowed for cooking beef in this manner is twenty minutes to the pound, if it is to be rare, less half an hour, deducted from the aggregate time on account of searing. In other words, a five pound roast of ber! will require about an hour and a quarter, a six pound reast an hour and a half, and so on. If the oven is not too hot, the meat requires no basting, and is better without it.

Artistic Possibilities in Pine.

A correspondent in Demorest's Monthly describes a pretty example of the artistic possibilities in pine; a bedroom set made of it and painted with cream white. Space can only be given here for a description of the bedstead:

It was made of square beams of pine about five inches thick, which were most carefully and neatly mortised together. It was low, the footposts only extending a little above the bed after it was furnished with mattresses and clothes. From the headpost sprang a lighter wood frame which supported a pretty pink and white drapery, such as is sold for about fifteen cents a yard. The drapery was full, but simply finished with a hem. The spring mattress, being bound beneath, fitted upon the bed without slots, and this was a good arrangement, as the simple four sided frame was thus rendered almost secure from troublesome visitants; perfectly so, with a careful housewife and faithful duster. The other mattress was laid above this.

The "set" consisted of the bedstead described, a dressing table and washstand. The wood was ornamented with a design of vines and flowers painted in delicate colors; on the bedstead pink poppies, the emblems of sleep; on the washstand the lotus flower and leaf; on the todet table boneysuckle, the emblem

How to Sweep Without Dust.

It is best to use something to prevent dust from rising when sweeping. Of course the dust must be gotten out of the carpet, but it is not necessary to send it over all the walls and contents of the room. For this purpose damp tea leaves, moistened commeal or bran and salt are used, scattered over the carpet. Tea leaves are excellent, but if it is feare 1 that they may stain a light colored carpet, either of the other things may be used. Sait is a favorite with many because it seems to brighten the colors. It must, however, be swept out very thoroughly and not used too often; for after frequent use moisture may be observed on the carpet on damp days, an unpleasant odor will be perceptible in the room, and the carpet will be damp to the touch. This is caused by salt that accumulates in the carpet.

Fruit Juices for Flavoring, Etc.

Fruit juices for use in syrups, cordials and beverages, or for flavoring ice cream, fruit ices and bonbons, may be prepared as follows: Mash the juicy fruits in a basin, to a pulp, place on the fire and make scalding hot; now pour into a hair sieve and allow the juice to run through. Put into bottles and close securely. Place these bottles in a caldron of cold water and boil twenty minutes. Remove from the fire, let them become cold and then set away for use. In the case of non-juicy fruits, such as apples, pears, etc., put the fruit into a basin, cover with water and boil to a pulp. Then drain on a hair sieve, bottle and boil as above.

Novel Notions in Decorations. Quite a pretty and certainly very unique gover for the top of a tiny round stand was recently made of chamois skin. The skin was decorated in gilt and bronze. The edge was finished with a fringe of chamois, made by clipping it in narrow strips. The fringe was tacked on with brass headed tacks. Very nice looking window curtains can be made from ordinary house flannel. First color it a pleasing shade by immersing it in made coffee. Then embroider it at top and bottom with wide horizontal bands of red in cross stitch.

Brown Bread.

For good home made brown bread take one cup each of Indian meal, rye meal and molasses, two cups of flour, one pint and a half of sour milk, a teaspoonful of salt, an egg and a teaspoonful of soda. Mix the dry ingredients, dissolve the soda in two tablespoonfuls of boiling water, add it and the milk to the molasses and pour on the other materials. Beat the egg and and it. Mix it well; steam it in a tightly covered two quart tin pan, then remove the cover and bake in the oven for half an hour.

HE WILL VISIT ST. LOUIS THE FIRST WEEK IN OCTOBER.

The St. Louis Delegation, Headed By Mayor Francis, Calls on the President and Presents Him With the Second Invitation to Visit Their City. WASHINGTON, July 26.—The delegation from St. Louis, which arrived last night to invite the President and Mrs. Cleveland to that city, called by appointment at the White House at 12 m. to-day. The delegation was ushered into the library, where the president received them, Mayor Francis, of St. Louis, immediately stepped to the front and made the following address:

"MR. PRESIDENT-It was my fortune sixty days ago accompanied by twenty-five representive citizens of St. Louis to supplement and earnestly endorse in behalf of the people of that city an invitation previously extended to you to attend the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republie to be held in the city of St. Louis during the last week of September next. The success of that mission in eliciting from you a favorable response was highly gratifying to the people of St. Louis and of Missouri. The disappointment later, consequent upon your letter of declination, was deep and all prevailing, but co-extensive with it was a sentiment of sincere approval of the patriotic motives which had prompted you to such

"The citizens of St. Louis, irrespective of party, nationality or race, in meeting assembled the day after your letters were received, with one voice enthusiastically resolved to extend to yourself and your estimable wife a cordial invitation to visit their city during the first week of October next and instructed their mayor with a committee of fifty citizens to convey and deliver the same in person to you. Assemblages of like character were held in almost every county in the state indorsing and emphasizing the action taken in St. Louis. Delegates were appointed at these meetings to proceed to the capital of the nation and there to express to the chief executive in a manner as effective as words and form would permit the warmth of the greeting which awaits him from the people of Missouri in the metropolis of their state.

We are here, therefore, in obedience to the mandates of our people, representing all sections of Missouri, her commercial, manufacturing and agricultural interests, and reflecting the desire of every city, town and hamlet within her borders to urge you and Mrs. Cleveland to favor us with your presence. This invitation emanates from the people, your sovereign and ours, and not from any organization, civil or military, political or religious. It is the spontaneous outburst of a community, that never suffers its reputation for hospitality to be aspersed. It is a vigorous and feeling protest from a generous host against the absolute declination of a distinguished guest to be the central figure of an invited company. The reasons why you should visit the west are even stronger now than on the former occasion when your reply was a favorable one, whether viewed from our standpoint or your

"Our appearance before you in largely increased numbers, coming as we do from the most remote sections of the state, furnishes some indication of the feeling prevailing at our homes. The people of the west rever the high office of chief magistrate of the nation, and their loyalty and patriotism impel them to honor him who fills that exalted position. Especially is it so when the man who fills it performs his duties with the wisdom, fearlessness and patriotism which characterize your administration. No organization however strong and no occurrence however imthe occasion of your presence. The people of Missouri and of the west will congregate in vast numbers to meet and welcome you in the commercial centre of the Mississippi val-

"We have designated the first week in October as the time for your visit, because we thought that time would be most convenient and agreeable for you; because it is the season when our fall festivities are at their height; when our trade pageant gives its annual display; when the mysterious Veiled Prophet, surrounded with Oriental splendor. makes his autumnal visit; when our streets are brilliantly illuminated by arches of blazing light and on a scale of magnificence never approached; when our exposition and our agricultural and mechanical fair, each the greatest of its kind on the continent, are in progress; and because, finally, it is a senson when the sterling yeomanry of the land, the bulwark of the republic and the greatest contributors to its wealth can with least detriment to their agricultural interests, assemble in our city to do you honor.

If, however, another time would be better suited to your inclination or engagements, your welcome would be none the less genuine. The city of St. Louis, the state of Missouri and the people of the west say to the president of the United States, 'Honor us with your presence,' and to Grover Cleveland, the honest, fearless man who so ably fills that high office, 'Come and be our

At the conclusion of the address, Mayor Francis presented an elaborately engraved fivitation to the president, which read as

Mayor Francis' remarks, which were made off hand, were repeatedly interrupted by applause, which was redoubled when the address was formally presented to the president with the terse remark that it was from what they thought the greatest city of the continent to him whom they thought the greatest president of the United States. The president also speaking extemporaneously, replied as follows: "MR. MAYOR AND GENTLEMEN-My reply to your very complimentary and hearty address shall be very brief and very agreeable. At the time you did me the honor to invite me to your city on the occasion of your last visit, I felt quite contrary to my expectation when I first met you, that it was an invitation which ought not to be declined. I felt impressed at the moment that you had something there in St. Louis of which you were deservedly proud, that you had a city and a people and interests there which it was only right and just you should earnestly desire that the chief magistrate of the nation should see and appreciate. What has happened since has in no wise hampered my de-

It was not at all necessary, in order to convince me of your good faith and sincerity, that so many of your good people should at this most uncomfortable season of the year come here, and yet you don't know how much it pleases me to see you all. The desire to come to you has grown with every day, and I do not see how I can do othervise now than accept your invitation,"

When the applause which greated this announcement had subsided the President, reverting to his previous acceptance, said: 'The arrangement made lefore was one which was entirely free from any complications, and which presented no likelihood of clashing with any of my other arrangements. You are aware, I suppose, that I have agreed to visit the city of Atlanta early in October. This is an agreement of long standing, entered into before the closing of this session of congress. I must go there. I only speak of this because when we sit down to determine upon the day when I can visit you this must be taken into account, and it is because of this and some other considerations of a like character which I will not enter into that I am prevented at this time from fixing upon a precise day for my visit. That, however, is a matter that can be arranged afterwards. We shall have considerable time to look around us and I shall be glad to meet or correspond with any of your citizens whom you may designate, so as to fix a day and avoid uncertainty as much as possible. I am a little in doubt about the exact time, but the thing must be

This remark which was made with great emphasis elicited loud and prolonged applause. A pleasant informal conversation followed. The president asked what day the fair opened and what day the parade took place. Mayor Francis replied that the fair pened on Monday, October 2, and the Veiled Prophet was expected to appear on Tuesday, October & "I do not know exactly how we can communicate with him," he added, laughing, "but perhaps he may be induced to delay his coming until you arrive." The president replied that to have both at the same time would be a little less trouble to be expected. "We don't want you to forget Mrs. Clove-land," added the mayor. "I do not think she will let me forget that," the president responded.

A invitation was extended to the members of the cabinet and their wives to accompany the president, and the pleasant interview

BURNING HORSEFLESH.

A Fierce Fire in New York Burns Up Forty-Eight Horses-Other Losses.

NEW YORK, July 26.-A fire broke out at 5 o'clock this morning in the buildings Nos. 43 to 49 West Thirteenth street, in which 100 horses were stabled, and forty-eight of them were burned to death. The building is occupied by Fleischmann's Vienna bakery. The assement is used as a mixing room, the first floor as a storage house over the wagons and the second and third floors were fitted up with stalls occupied by the 100 horses used m delivering bread throughout the city. Seven stablemen were aslee in the second floor of the building, and another man was at work attending the horses on the third

The sleeping men were almost suffocated by the smoke that rolled up from the basement before they were aroused by the trampling of the horses. A man named Healy was the first to awake. He was so terrified by the blinding smoke and kicking and trampling of the horses that he sprang out of a window. He landed upon his shoulder, sustaining severe injuries. The man on the third floor and the other six stablemen rushed down starrs and managed to reach the street in safety. When the firemen arrived the flames had enten their way portant will be required to add interest to | through the building. The horses were whinnying with terror and rushing to and fro on the upper floors.

In the rear of the building on Fourteenth street fronting Union square are several large dry goods stores filled with hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of goods. A third alarm was sent out and the firemen set to work to confine the flames to the building in which the fire broke out and to rescue the imprisoned horses. The horses burned were valued at $14,000. The stock, harness, wagons and machinery destroyed was valued at about $20,000. The damage to the building is placed at $10,000.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

A Decrease of Membership in the Eastern States.

NEW YORK, July 23. - A Providence, R. I., special says: The announcement of the reports of the Massachusetts Knights of Labor showing that the order has lost largely in membership creates no surprise in this state, where the order has exercised but little influence on the course of industry for many months. When the manufacturers of Rhode Island organized for self-protection about a year ago, they resolved that there should be no interference by Knights of Labor with their business, and to this resolve they have strictly adhered. The manufacturers have in every instance refused to arbitrate or listen to any suggestion to arbitration by committees of the Knights of Labor, and they have given unequivocal evidence of their purpose to adhere to this line of conduct.

Thus while there has been no lockout of Knights of Labor as such, membership in the order is not a recommendation to promotion in the mills, and the acceptance of office in a Knight of Labor assembly is considered as standing in the way, not exactly of employment, but of an employer's favor and confidence. This is the actual situation in the great industries of this state, and apparently also of Massachusetts, and it is not surprising, therefore, that there is a decrease in membership.

THE WOOL MARKET.

Both the Boston and Philadelphia Reports Show But Little Chauge.

New York, July 125.—Bradstreet's, in its summary of the wool market, says that at Boston no change has appeared this week, that more frequent inquiries have been made by manufacturers. Purchases have not increased to any extent, both sellers and buyers pursuing a waiting policy. There is a fair demand for medium descriptions, but fine fleeces are neglected and weak. Prices in the general range are unchanged. The sales of the week are reported at 1,870,000 pounds, against 1,560,000 pounds last week, and, and 4,628,000 in the same week last year. The Boston wool market continues dull and easy and in buvers' favor.

The Philadelphia market has continued very quiet. Mills are buying only for urgent wants unless they can secure sharp concessions, which the majority of holders are unwilling to make. Manufacturers are using a good deal of shoddy and cheap foreign wools to lessen the cost of products in competition with foreign goods. This adds to the dullness of the market for home grown wools. Stocks are tight and receipts continue small, as dealers are unwilling to stock up at ruling rates in the interior. Prices at Boston are the same as last week, except Michigan extra which is 31 to 32 c.

On Thursday evening the ladies of the Delta Gamma Fraternity held their banjust at the Russell House, Alliance. On Friday evening the seniors made fare well speeches in the societies, and were presented with diplomas. On Saturday evening a large crowd assembled in the college halls to witness the graduating exercises of the first normal class ever graduated at the college. The addresses were short and to the point, and were enjoyed by all. The class numbered thirty-three. Sunday morning the halls were comfortably filled to hear the baccalcureate discourse by Rev. O. N. Hartshorn, Ll. D., president of the faculty It was an able address, and closed with some very good advice to the seniors? Sunday evening, owing to the inclement weather, the audience was rather small, but those who were brave enough to face the storm were amply repaid by hearing the alumni sermon by Rev. A. B. Leonard, D. D., of the Cincinnati conference. Monday evening graduating exercises of the musical department took place. Following is a list of the graduates: Miss Gertrude Stanley, Mt. #### The Reunion of the C. M. B. A.

The second annual reunion of the upreme Council and branches of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association, held at Cottage Grove Wednesday, was a success, both socially and in point of numbers. Three hundred members and friends of the Massillon branch left for Canton in the morning, where they joined the Leo and Arnould branches of Canton, Carroll branch of Louisville, St. Joseph's, of Alliance, and others, on their way to the grove. The Cleveland train brought down branches from Cleveland, Akron, Elyria, Collinwood, and other places. The gathering was composed of representative Catholics, and must have numbered 5,000 souls. Among the reverend gentlemen present were Frs. Kuhn and Verlet, of Massillon, Vattman, of Canal Fulton, Seltzer, of Doylestown, Koudelka, of Cleveland, Mahar, of Akron, and Scanlan. The day was spent in social enjoyment, "doing the place," and listening to the fine music, of which the Grand Army and Harmonia furnished an abundance. In the afternoon short addresses were made by the chairman of the committe of arrangements, Mr. Wall, of Cleveland, Grand Secretary Bonnet, of Louisville. Fr. Vattmann, Chas. Frazer, of Canton, Mr. Donohue, of Elyria, and others. Although the Ohio council is the youngest it now numbers twenty-five branches, and the speakers all congratulated the order on its rapid growth. It was d ceided tehold rest year's reunion at Meyer's Lake.

A BUSINESS CHANGE.

C. L. McClain & Co., will Move into a New Building.

Messrs, C. L. McLain & Co. have at last definitely decided upon a location for their wholesale grocery business, which has already over-dowed the large threestory building on Eric street, and an equally large warehouse on Exchange street. In the spring this firm hadevery plan made for a new building on the site of the frame warehouse on Exchange street. But when about ready to begin work they were thrown into a quandary as to what to do with the stock while the building was in the course of erection. There seemed to be no solution to the problem, and the project was declared

Now, however, arrangements have been made with Mr. Frederick Loeffler. whereby Mr. Loetter agrees to it his immense brick well house on South Eric street especially for the wholesale groremodeled into a double store room, with ist o be entirely changed, an elevator put in run by a 20s engine, offices partitioned off and everything made as complete as possible. An oil warehouse will be built separate from the mean building. The new edities is to be ready for occupancy by Onester 1st, 1887.
